Mayence, Jan. 24.—German industrial leaders of the Ruhr were heavily fined by a French court martial here today for disobedience of orders of French military officers.

Herr Spandy was fined 471,700 francs, which at the present rate of exchange amounts to 560,000,000 German marks.

Spandy was one of seven industrial barons of the region occupied by the French who went on trial. The court of justice was packed. Many international journalists were present.

French troops with bayoneted rifles guarded the court room, inside and out.

Fritz Thyssen, one of the accused, who was taken ill on the eve of the trial, stoutly maintained he would obey only the German law.

Paris, Jan. 24.—The French are planning to occupy the Ruhr for at least two years, it was learned on reliable authority today.

General Weygand probably will be appointed high commissioner for the newly occupied territory, which may be completely cut off from the rest of Germany.

Militarization of railroads and communications is expected to be the next step, with even more drastic measures to follow if German resistance continues.

Essen Jan. 24.—French troops in the Ruhr were withdrawn from the larger cities and quartered in nearby villages. Patrols and staff headquarters remained in Essen, Bochum, Dortmund and other industrial centers, but the bulk of the army of occupation was scattered among Ruhr farms.

Whether this move presaged further conciliation on the part of the French, or was preliminary to es-

ANNUAL MEETING GIVEN TO LEBANON

Executive Committee Of Log Rolling
Association Of Woodman Lodge
Selects Convention City

RUSHVILLE HAD AN AMBITION

The annual meeting of the District Log Rolling association of the Modern Woodman Lodge was held here this morning, which was to the effect that the executive committee in charge of selecting the 1923 convention city had awarded the meeting to Lebanon.

The news came just when active preparations were being made to bring the convention to Rushville July 3 and 4. The Modern Woodman lodge appointed a special committee Monday evening to enlist the support of the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs and kindred organizations in an effort to raise a guarantee fund for the log rolling.

All of their efforts were of no avail, however, because a delegation of citizens from Lebanon waited on the log rolling association's executive committee Tuesday and persuaded the committee to designate Lebanon though there was a strong demand to bring the convention here, due to the fact that this is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the organization in Rushville.

The subject was taken up by the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs over a month ago and soon afterwards the word was sent out that there was no chance to get the meeting. Later, however, it developed that the convention city had not been named.

FOR MEMORIAL DAY BILL

Support Asked by State Commander
of Legion in Message

An appeal for support of the Memorial Day bill in the state legislature, which would prevent commercialized sports on Decoration Day, was received today by Osro Farthing, adjutant of Rush post of the American Legion here, from Perry Faulkner, department commander for Indiana.

The telegram said that strong opposition to the bill had developed and the Indiana leader urged the local adjutant and members of the post to ask prominent men in the community to wire local representatives, seeking support of the bill.

TERM OF COURT ENDS SATURDAY

No More Jury Trials Scheduled For Hearing Until First of Next
Term, February 7

TWO COMPLAINTS ARE FILED

Frank A. Messmore is Plaintiff in
Suit for a Divorce From Mabel
M. Messmore

The November term of court will come to a close Saturday, and only a few minor matters are set for trial during the remainder of this term. In all probability the jury will not be used any more, unless it is called for a case Friday.

Next week will be vacation, between the November and February terms. The February term will begin Monday, February 5, and the jury will be used in the first week, on the seventh, as the case of the State against Mary Ellen Hughes is set for trial on that date. Judge Craig of Greensburg is the special judge in that case, and it is expected that a special venire will be called.

Two law suits and several claims against estates were placed on file today. One of the suits was a complaint for divorces and the other a complaint on a note.

Frank A. Messmore is plaintiff in the suit for divorce from Mabel M. Messmore, the charge being that the defendant was dirty, filthy and unsanitary in her appearance and house work. The plaintiff also charges that she failed to prepare his breakfast, and that during their married life, she did not prepare this meal for him more than a dozen times.

The plaintiff alleges that they were married in October 1921, and separated December 30, 1922, and no children were born to them. They resided in Walker township, according to the record.

PASTOR AT BREMEN FOR EIGHT YEARS MARRYING AT TOP AND DYING AT TOP

Minister Who Accepts Call to Rushville Church Makes Good Record
in Ohio City

RESIGNATION IS ACCEPTED

Described as Progressive, a Good
Organizer and Useful in Movements Outside Church

The Rev. Gibson Wilson, who has accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church here and will assume his pastoral duties here the first Sunday in February, the 4th, has been the pastor of the Presbyterian church of Bremen, O., for the past eight years, according to the Bremen Derrick, a newspaper published there.

REV. GIBSON WILSON

The Rev. Mr. Wilson announced to his congregation on January 14 that he had received a call to Rushville and asked the congregation to accept his resignation, which was done.

Concerning the record he has made in Bremen, the newspaper says: The announcement has caused profound sorrow, not only among the members of his congregation but with all people. As the members of the congregation Sunday morning came to realize that they would soon lose their beloved pastor, tears could not be restrained. Rev. Wilson began his pastorate in Bremen in February, 1915, and the eight years that he has been here have been fruitful ones. The church has taken on greater activity and he is leaving

COUNTY ASSESSORS MEET HERE FEB. 20

Officials of Sixth District and Two
Other Counties Will Confer on
Spring Assessment

MAY FIX A UNIFORM SCALE

A district conference of county assessors will be held here on Tuesday, February 20, it was announced today by Earl F. Priest, county assessor.

The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss plans for the spring assessment of personal property which will begin on March 1. Such conferences have been held in past years and have been addressed by representatives of the state board of tax commissioners, who outline the state commission's ideas in regard to the application of the state tax law. There is a possibility, too, that some changes may be made in the tax law which would necessitate some explanation. The assessors will try to arrive at some uniform scale for placing values on farm personal property, inasmuch as values on this class of property are practically the same in this district.

Assessors of counties in the sixth congressional district will attend the conference, and in addition those from Johnson and Decatur counties will also be invited. Counties in the sixth district that will be represented are Franklin, Union, Fayette, Wayne, Henry, Hancock, Rush and Shelby.

DEMOCRACY OF AMERICA

Evangelist's Contrast of Sham Nobility And Aristocracy Is Vivid
—One Conversion

Despite the inclement weather of Tuesday night, the service at the Main Street Christian Church had an audience of goodly size.

Evangelist E. Richard Edwards held the close attention of his audience with his sermon on "The Real Royal Household". If any person present had any doubt as to who are the real nobility of earth, that doubt was dispelled.

The discourse was inspiring, scriptural, and paid a fine tribute to the democracy of America and the opportunity for all to attain to that distinction for which his or her talent fitted. Numerous instances were given of the men and women of humble rank who rose to places of rank based on real worth.

Especially interesting was the claim of the speaker that the trouble with Europe was "Royalty." He said that the reigning houses of Europe insisted in marrying at the top and were dying at the top. His contrast of sham nobility and aristocracy was vivid. He said that if you are not employed at any useful labor or a tradesman they would call you a "gentleman" in English circles but that our shorter name here in the United States was "Hobo".

The sermon had some keen points of humor that appealed to the audience. The outstanding thought was that character was the basis of real royalty—as we build that on the faith and teaching of Christ, we take highest rank among our fellows.

It was claimed that all things belong to the sons and daughters of the Almighty and the people out of the Kingdom of God are only visitors among the glories of this earth and all that pertains to it finally reverts to God's children.

There was one who came forward at the close of the sermon. The solo was presented by Harry Doty and greatly pleased the congregation.

The subject announced for tonight is "The Blind Man's Creed." It promises to have a large hearing. The chorus choir will continue to offer a spirited song service and B. F. Miller will sing a special solo.

VIRTUAL DEFEAT OF BILL IS SEEN

Measure to Repeal Absent Voters
Law Is Recommended to Senate
Committee on Elections

MANY NEW BILLS INTRODUCED

House Kills Fifteen Bills, Among
Them Proposals to Abolish Two
State Offices

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 24.—Virtual defeat of the bill to repeal the absent voters law in the senate and indefinite postponement of fifteen measures in the house marked the morning session of the state legislature today.

The Baker bill to repeal the absent voters law was recommended to the committee on elections when it was brought up for final consideration. This action meant defeat of the measure in its present form, but the elections committee may amend it to prevent abuse of the law in line with the recommendations of Governor McCray.

The state board of accounts would be abolished and its duties vested in the state auditor under the terms of a bill introduced by Senator Hays. The auditor would become head of the department and be given power to appoint a superintendent at a salary of $6,000 a year.

Motor busses and trucks operating under a regular schedule are declared a public utility and placed under the control of the public service commission in a bill introduced by Senator Moorhead of Indianapolis.

A bill introduced by Senator Batt provides that county councils shall fix all tax levies and rates within

FRENCH TO TAKE IT OVER

Public Square In German Town
Crowded With French And Germans To Witness Ceremony

(Copyright, 1923, by United Press)
Coblentz, German, Jan. 24.—"O say Can You See?"

The opening strains of the national anthem from the smartest of French military bands blared out through the packed square at Coblentz promptly at noon.

The Stars and Stripes on the tall flag pole fluttered an instant as two American machine gunners, honored men who had come through Chateau Thierry, pulled gently on the ropes.

A French and American military guard was rigid at attention as the flag came down. Crowds of Germans and French, many with wet eyes, pushed forward to witness the ceremony.

The huge flag sank slowly to the foot of the pole, where General Allen, commanding the last remnant of the American army of occupation, caught it in his arms and folded it.

The anthem came to an end with a crash of cymbals and a great blare of brass.

Our flag was no longer there. The ceremony signified the formal departure of the last of Americans "two millions" from the Rhine.

One thousand American doughboys made up the last detachment that entrained from Coblentz this afternoon. The city took a holiday to pay them honor and see them off. A little group of sixty remained behind to clean up.

Two car loads of the train that drew the last Americans to Belgium for embarkation for the United States were made up of newly wedded doughboys and their German wives. Many of them had been married in the Rhineland; there were tearful partings between brides and their relatives as the train pulled out.

A telegram was received from General Degoutte, commanding the French army of occupation in the Ruhr.

"Most cordial salutations to our American comrades. Best wishes for a happy future. We will keep faithfully the souvenir of loyal co-operation."

The last act of the American army of occupation at Coblentz was to re-

HILL INTRODUCES TWO SENATE BILLS

Carthage Man Sponsors Measures To Protect Non-Union Workers And
Provide Vehicle Lights

BOTH ARE IMPORTANT BILLS

Senator R. H. Hill of Carthage, representing Rush, Fayette and Shelby counties in the state legislature, has introduced two bills which are regarded as important ones.

One bill will make it a misdemeanor to interfere with a worker, or influence him to quit a position, and the other is to provide lights on all vehicles using public highways at nights.

The first bill is designed to protect workmen who take the place of men on a strike, and to place a penalty on anyone who interferes with the laboring man having the right to take someone else's job. The bill aims directly, it is believed, at railroads and miners, which will offer non-union men protection from striking employees.

The other bill, if enacted into a law, will place all vehicles under practically the same law as automobiles, requiring lights to be displayed thirty minutes after sun-down and thirty minutes before sun-up. This bill provides that even carts, wagons and all conveyances on a public highway or street, shall be equipped with proper lights.

Five years of suffering from stomach trouble, nervousness and a general run-down condition was ended when he got Tanlac, declares Edw. J. Whalen, of Washington, D. C. Mr. Whalen also gained fifteen pounds in weight.

"Tanalac put me on my feet, with a gain of fifteen pounds," declared Edward J. Whalen, 607 6th St., N. W., Washington, D. C., valued employee of the U. S. General Accounting Office.

"For five years, I suffered terribly from stomach trouble and was dreadfully nervous and run-down. I lost my appetite, fell off several pounds, and what I did eat made me suffer from awful gas pains, palpitation and choking sensations. I suffered even worse at night and couldn't get to sleep until near morning."

"But Tanlac has wiped the slate clean" and now I am eating anything I want and am stronger and healthier than in many a day. If anybody wants to know the real value of Tanlac, send them to me." Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.

Says County Unit Law Would Promote Efficiency in Rush Co. Schools

bility of "county seat consolidation and domination."

3. The county unit does not mean centralization of school, except so far as schools are adjusted to natural community centers. It will mean school centers larger than the township in some places, school centers smaller than the township in others. This matter will be entirely in the hands of the County Board of Education, locally elected, and directly amenable to the people of the county. Such men will not be likely to bring about consolidation excepting so far as public opinion and proven school efficiency will justify.

4. Instead of the county unit destroying local control it will strengthen it. The people of the communities will elect the members of the county board of education. They, because of the high qualifications set up, will elect the highest type of schoolmen to take charge of the school system of the county. With a stronger local leadership created within the county, so-called "dictation" from the state capitol will be almost impossible. Indiana has a good example of this at the present time. A large number of city school systems with their stronger local leadership do not need, and therefore do not get the amount of state supervision that the major portion of the township schools receive. In fact, it is always true that strong local leadership in any matter, lessens the amount of outside control that is possible.

5. The county unit will lower school costs. Every school man who has made careful financial comparisons is convinced, quality for quality of school work considered, that the proposed reorganization will result in a saving of from 5 to 20% in financial outlay.

6. Why do school men consider the county unit so essential for future school growth?

This question can best be answered in this fashion. Seventy-five years ago the territory that composed a school district was as large as the township from which people could gather conveniently for an evening of entertainment or neighborhood sociability. Our forefathers, not foreseeing automobiles and hard surfaced roads, but foreseeing better means of transportation and better pikes, long before the local community was as large as the township, made the township the unit of school administration. As a result, when the economic community became as large as the township, the schools were legally so situated that they were able to adjust themselves quickly to the enlarged local community unit. As a result, Indiana with the township system outstripped the schools of the states that retained the district system, and Indiana became one of the foremost states of the Union, educationally.

In many places in Indiana today, good roads and automobile transportation have made the six by six township smaller than the local economic unit, and each year will see this list of larger economic units added to. If Indiana is to maintain her position as a pace-maker in education, our laws must be so changed that artificial township lines will not prevent our school communities from enlarging as the corresponding social and business communities enlarge, that is, the county unit is not an attempt to centralize or revolutionize the schools of Indiana in a day. It is an attempt to make it possible for our schools by the slow process of evolution to adjust themselves as it is necessary to the larger social and economic units which are developing everywhere.

behind a record of which he can well be proud. But his usefulness to this community was not through his church alone as he was active in movements outside of the church whereby the community profited. He is progressive, a good organizer, strong in the pulpit and well liked.

During his pastorate here he officiated at 25 weddings and conducted 104 funerals. He has baptized 111 children and 65 adults, and has received 231 members into the church, 154 of whom were received on confession of faith. When he came to Bremen the membership was reported 253. There has been losses, but the gain was steady and the present membership is 324. Except when his church was closed because of the flu, or he was away on his vacation, he has only been out of his pulpit three Sundays during the eight years, two of these Sundays being spent in the Rushville church. His ministries have been to a larger circle than the boundaries of his own congregation.

Rev. Wilson was chairman of the committee that made the survey of churches and communities of Fairfield county for the Ohio Federation of Churches. He was a member of the Fairfield County War Chest Committee, a committee composed of 50 of the prominent men of the county and during the World War was active in every way whereby he might be of service to his country. He has been an active member of the Fairfield County Ministerial Association, is a member of the Bremen Automobile Club which he has represented at the state meeting, a member of different fraternal orders which he has addressed on many occasions; a member of the Rush-creek grange, a member of the Bremen Lyceum committee, in fact active in all public welfare interests. For four years he has been the stated clerk of Columbus Presbytery, a position of considerable responsibility.

In a community where there is not the largest opportunities for growth, he has seen the interests of his church steadily advance, not only in membership but in many other ways. Benevolent gifts have increased from $400 per year to over $2000 per year. The men's work of the church including the boys, is well cared for through the Brotherhood and Sabbath School. There is a large missionary society with three auxiliary organizations and among the young there are both a Senior and Junior Christian Endeavor Society, well attended and active. The Sunday School is alive to its work with many of the classes organized.

Rev. Wilson is a graduate of Wash-bash College and Princeton Seminary. His family consists of himself, wife and three children, Kathryn who is a senior in the high school; Carolyn, who is a sophomore, and Edward who is in the fourth grade. Rushville is a beautiful and flourishing county seat of 6000 people, located forty miles southeast of Indianapolis with four railroads and an interurban. The Presbyterian church there has a membership of about 400. Rushville has the additional interest to Rev. Wilson in its educational advantage. His daughters desire to enter Western College at Oxford upon completion of their school work, and this location puts them within easy access to the college.

While Bremen people greatly regret to lose Rev. Wilson and his estimable family, yet they are pleased to know that in their new home there will be greater opportunities and increased responsibilities and through training, experience and natural ability the Reverend is well equipped to meet them.

Germans today charged the French with deliberately spreading untrue reports of "troop movements in Germany." The French stated they had information of such; German officials and the war office officially declared the reports unqualifiedly false.

Steaming up Heavyweight Fight

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Jan. 24—Jess Willard's belated howl that Jack Dempsey put something over on him at Toledo in 1919 failed to create any excitement. It was accepted casually and considered rather to be expected since it has become a custom for defeated heavyweight champions to cry that they did not lose on the level.

Willard did not go into details about the stunts pulled to relieve him of his title, but it is thought that he has in mind the old story that Dempsey had his fists packed in cement when he went into the ring.

Jimmy De Forest, who trained Dempsey for the fight, and who handled him in the ring in Toledo, was once quoted as saying that Dempsey had on "Kid McCoy's bandages", but De Forest later denied the story, and said that he put nothing but the regulation tape on his hands.

Willard, however, and a good many other fans have never been able to figure why the champion fairly mashed in Willard's face on that particular occasion when he hardly left marks on his numerous other victims.

Dempsey can come back perhaps with some good argument in the claim that he never had to hit any one like he hit Willard to put him out.

For the next three months anything that Willard says must be taken as pure "seam".

As far as that goes everything

that anyone connected with heavyweight boxing has to say before the middle of next summer might be discounted as ballyhoo for Dempsey's next fight.

Scraps for the heavyweight championship have become such tremendous business propositions that it takes almost a year to get over with one. It requires miles of columns and tons of words.

The miles of words and the tons of conversation will be dished out from now until next July.

There may have been one heavyweight champion in the past who was willing to admit that he was beaten by a better man, but his name isn't just on the end of the tongue.

Jim Jeffries said he "got his" in a cup of tea and Jack Johnson at one time said he took a deliberate flop in losing to Willard.

Johnson afterwards denied that he had been fixed to do the diving act, but a lot of wise boxing bugs have always believed, and they do yet that Johnson was not out when he took the count, because he covered his eyes with his gloves to shield them from the sun as the referee was counting over him.

It sounds reasonable that Jack was all in, tired and worn, that he knew he could not win and decided to lose when he had a good chance.

Tales of sharp practice always follow big boxing contests nowadays. It is no new story that Johnson was "arranged" to let Jeffries beat him, and that Jack forgot all about the agreement when he saw he could win the title and its fortune.

Exactly the same thing came out after the recent Carpentier-Siki fight the claim being made that Siki was to have taken a dive for the films and that he forgot the lines of scenario when the Frenchman hurt him with a push on the chin.

ARLINGTON TO MEET CONNSVILLE FIVE

Athletic Club Scheduled To Play An-
stead Engineering Team At Arlington Thursday Night

TOURNEY FEBRUARY 16-17

The Arlington Athletic Club will meet the Connersville Anstead Engineering team Thursday night at the Arlington gymnasium. The Connersville team has in its line up such players as Lipps, Cates, Sparks, Redding and Clevenger, the latter two being former University of Milwaukee players, and come highly recommended.

Connersville has victories over such teams as Hagerstown, Richmond, Muncie Durants and others and have sent word that the fans will not be disappointed as they fully expect to win.

However, the A. C.'s are all in good condition and have been going good lately. The curtain raiser will be played by the Webb Independent team and the Junior A. C.'s. These two teams went to a five minute overtime game recently, the Juniors winning by a two point margin.

The Independent tourney for this district will be held at Arlington February 16 and 17 and indications are that ten or twelve teams will enter.

Hittin' 'Em and Missin' 'Em

SAY GANG, LOOK WHAT THEY ARE CALLIN' YOU

Shelbyville has it figured out. The newspaper down there says that they will win the game here Friday night, in an easy fashion, adding that Rushville is a mediocre team. Hittin' 'em looked that word up, and Webster says it means "of a middle quality; of but a moderate or low degree of excellence."

GETTING READY FOR NEXT YEAR NOW

One of our contributors from the high school, informs us that the high school schedule for next year has about been completed. He adds, "It is much lighter than this year's schedule with more local teams on the list. The following have been signed up to date: Greensburg, Moscow, Greenfield, Hagerstown, Columbus, Milroy, Fairview and Carthage."

WHAT DO YOU SAY, FANS, TO THIS

While Hittin' 'em doesn't like to but in, but the better the schedule, the better the games. We would like to hear what some of the fans think of the schedule. The trouble with the whole thing last year, was the schedule—a good team, and a weak schedule. It looks nice to have teams that you can beat, but it is a great deal better to have a schedule like this year, and meet teams which give you a tussle, even if you do get beat once in a while. We'd be in favor of booking all of the good ones and make our team measure up to the rest of 'em.

LINE-UPS ARE CHANGED

Readle and Comella have been taken off of the second string team, and will be given regular suits. Some one suggested to Hittin' 'em that Dailey would make a good piece of timber for the back guard position. Ollie Cartmel says he is gonna quit. No, Ollie we wouldn't do that—we'd stick with the ship.

WE MIGHT GO IN OVER
OUR HEADS

Rushville is wading into the Big Ten right now with Elwood on the list Saturday night. All of the teams that have been played lately and most of the ones that are left, are mentioned on the Big Ten list, or Honor Roll. Maybe there is a reason for so many defeats after all.

KEEP MAILIN' 'EM TO HITTIN' 'EM.

If Moscow keeps on breaking up their opponents winning streaks, they will have a winning streak of their own that will have to be broken up.

WE'RE GLAD THAT ELWOOD
PLAYS CONNSVILLE FRIDAY NIGHT AND NOT US—IT WILL BE US ON SATURDAY NIGHT.

Anderson has just gotta win Friday night. If they can't beat Vincennes, who can?

WHY NOT SHINE LIKE A BRIGHT STAR?

Hittin' 'em has been asked by the Indianapolis Star to telephone complete details of the basketball games that Rushville plays. They want the score right at the end of the first half, and also the final score, with a complete line-up and summary. They seem to think a great deal of this team by wanting details and telephone calls at the end of the first half. Why not make the report Friday night read a victory for Rushville? Not only that but they also want your picture. Have you got one?

HOMER INDEPENDENTS WIN

WINS ON 6-POINT MARGIN

Carthage High School Defeats Raleigh At Carthage Tuesday Night

Raleigh high school basketball team met defeat Tuesday night at Carthage, when the highschool team of that place ran up a six point victory 36 to 30, in a fast and exciting contest. The score at the first half saw Carthage leading 15 to 11, and all of the way through the game Raleigh was trailing only a few points. The Raleigh team was handicapped on account of one or two of their regulars being out. When the country tourney is held in Rushville on February 3, they are anxious to meet Carthage on equal terms as they feel that they could defeat them.

Raleigh and Moscow, two close rivals in the county, will meet Friday night at Raleigh.

the county.

Fifteen bills were killed by the house concurring in committee reports, the more important being:

Providing that the father must pay the medical fees at birth and support children born out of wedlock.

Abolishing the state board of engineers.

Abolishing the office of state fire marshal.

Increasing the license fees on motor busses and trucks and returning the fees to the county in which they were paid.

Providing that public officials' accounts be inspected by the state board of accounts on expiration of their terms on the petition of twenty-five or more taxpayers.

Making it impossible for judges to suspend the sentences of intoxicated automobile drivers.

Providing for a vacation in road building until counties pay off their present road indebtedness.

Providing that the property of all lodges and fraternities shall be taxable.

An impending battle for dollars obscured other issues in the legislature today as members took up three distinct sets of recommendation for appropriating money to operate the state government.

Governor McCray requested $13,934,731.27 to maintain governmental departments and institutions, in addition to $2,000,000 to complete the new reformatory at Pendleton.

Chairman Jesse Eschbach, and the republican members of the budget committee recommended $13,734,031.27 and were silent on the reformatory project.

The democratic minority of the budget committee recommended even further reduction and suggested an appropriation of $750,000 for completing the reformatory.

With the budget committee divided within itself and the two units at variance with Governor McCray, it was quite apparent that the fifty senators and one hundred representatives would have at least fifty different opinions concerning how much should be made available.

The majority report of the budget committee submitted to the house late yesterday by the Governor, accompanied by his own recommendations, represents a reduction of many millions from the requests of department and institutional heads. They had asked a total of about $20,000,000 as revealed by the United Press some time ago.

For the fiscal year October 1, 1923-1924, the committee recommended $7,142,578.27 and for the succeeding fiscal year $6,591,453.

The bill as presented does not include the governor's reformatory request nor the appropriations for the highway commission which are expected to range any place from $4,500,000 to $9,000,000. The reformatory proposal will be taken care of in another bill and the highway appropriation will await disposal of the proposed gasoline tax.

In nearly every case the budget committee majority report reduced requests of the various departments and institutions.

It is possible to reveal now the way in which members of the budget committee argued over each separate item. Chairman Eschbach consistently refused to sign a recommendation for $2,000,000 for the reformatory and thus prevented inclusion of it in the bill.

Other items were similarly contested by Eschbach and by the other members of the committee and it was these fights that delayed presentation of the report to the governor until a few days ago. It should have been completed January 1.

That Winter COLD

You have got so used to that hacking cough which bothers you every night during the winter that you have almost come to look upon it as a necessary evil. It is nothing of the kind.

The chances are that the cough is caused by nerve pressure, caused in its turn by some small spinal bones being out of place.

The Vital Force is thus prevented from flowing normally to the respiratory organs and they cannot function normally. Let your Chiropractor put these bones back in place. The pressure will be relieved and the Vital force will flow normally, causing the organs to function normally. The effect, in other words the cough, will disappear.

WILL ATTEND STATE GEOGRAPHY MEETING

B. D. Farthing, County School Superintendent, Going to Muncie for Conference This Week

MANY EDUCATORS TO SPEAK

A State Geography Conference has been called for Friday and Saturday at Muncie, and B. D. Farthing, county school superintendent, will be among those from this county who will attend.

The purpose of the meeting is for teachers and others to discuss various problems of geography that develop in work of instruction and administration of the subject, in an effort to improve the quality of geography teaching.

The two days session will be addressed by many prominent authorities on the subject, including L. N. Hines of Muncie, H. B. Roberts of Newcastle, Fred J. Breeze of Muncie, E. E. Ramsey, state school inspector of Indianapolis, and several college professors.

In the invitation received by local school authorities, it is stated that all who attend are to come prepared to discuss plans for putting the teaching of geography on a better basis in the state.

DETAILS WITHHELD

New York, Jan. 24.—A committee of 17 miners and operators presented to the soft coal conference at the hotel Pennsylvania today its agreement upon a contract form to apply from April 1, 1923. ORDERS TO LEAVE CAUSES GLOOM IN COBLENZ

ONE REASON WHY GERMANY HATED TO SEE THE DOUGHBOYS LEAVE

When orders were received that the United States troops should give up their "watch on the Rhine" there was gloom in Coblenz. The photograph shows one of the reasons—the generosity of the American soldiers. Here is a lineup of needy children receiving presents, in this case a bag of food, a warm union suit and two pairs of warm stockings.

If I Could Make Aprons—

EVER stop to think that practically every woman, regardless of her station in life, will wear an apron some time or other? Think of the demand for good aprons.

Why not make aprons to measure? Aprons from selected material? Aprons of new design?

Wouldn't they sell, though!

It simply would be a matter of telling the women of Rushville that these different aprons were being made at right prices. This could be done best with Daily Republican want ads.

GREAT BRITAIN WILL APPEAL TO THE LEAGUE

Will Ask Intervention in Allies Dispute With Turkey to Prevent War in the Near East

WORLD PEACE THREATENED

By HENRY WOOD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Lausanne, Jan. 24—Great Britain will appeal to the league of nations to intervene in the allies' dispute with Turkey and prevent war in the Near East.

Lord Curzon, after the Lausanne conference had reached a crisis and Ismet Pasha, Turk spokesman, had again refused concessions demanded by the allies, announced the situation threatened world peace and that Britain would lose no time in taking it before the league.

American Ambassador Child, United States Observer, presented to the conference a note, asking that the "open door" principle be applied to oil concessions, under dispute.

Such concessions, he said, should not be monopolized by any single country.

British and Turkey, each striving for possession of the Mosul oil fields, brought the parley to its present deadlock.

Those arrested and placed under bond included every type of citizen from owners of soft drink stands to city and county officials.

Thirty additional warrants were received and served just before the federal agents left. Seventy-five arrests were made on the original indictment.

Mayor R. O. Johnson reiterated his statement today that the arrests were a "frame up" and the result of political rivalry.

LAND FRAUD CASE GETS UNDER WAY

W. E. Stewart And Others Go On Trial On Charge Of Using Mails
For To Defraud People

$60,000,000 SWINDLE CHARGED

Firm Sold "Fruit Lands" To Thrifty
Farmers, And Lands Were Located In Lower Rio Grande

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 24.—The West's greatest land swindle was scheduled to come to trial here today.

After more than three years of
delay W. E. Stewart and his associates were scheduled to appear to answer charges of swindling thousands
of victims throughout the country of $60,000,000. This huge amount was obtained through the sale of "fruit
lands" in the lower Rio Grande valley.

Irrigation promise was the big
feature of the lands and indictments
were returned against Stewart on the grounds that the mails were used promd fald to mae

to defraud. It is alleged the irrigation promised, failed to materialize
for thousands of acres of land sold.
Competing with the historic "Mississippi Bubble" which involved world
powers more than two centuries ago.
in actual money involved, the Stewart
case is classed by postoffice inspectors as "one of the biggest cases
ever prosecuted in the United States."

Stewart's clients were drawn from
the fertile and profitable farms of Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin.

They were taken to Texas where,
after seeing a few show farms along
operating irrigation ditches, they invested. They paid $300 to $500 an produce if irrigated.

are for arid Texas land which might

Hundreds of witnesses will be ef-fled by the postoffice department. A large number of them are penniless,
still on their farms in Texas. The government will have to pay the
transportation costs for these, estimates of the cost already having
been obtained from the railroads.

The Stewart case has been a source of concern to politicians
since the original investigation in 1919 by J. M. Donaldson, postoffice inspector. Prominent politicians in Missouri Texas and Washington have been appealed to and enlisted in the fight.

The case has had the attention of Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general; Senator Watson of Indiana,
Senator Reed of Missouri. R. B.
Creager of Texas, a close personal friend of President Harding and a number of other political powers.

Every step in the investigation and prosecution for three years has drawn political fire. Inspector Donaldson was called to Washington for questioning early in his investigations, but he was allowed to proceed. Shortly after he presented the entire case to the federal court.

Are Women Over- worked

Yes, hundreds of thousands of them are. This applies to the housewife and mother who struggles on a small income to make both ends
meet by doing all the washing, ironing, cooking, making and mending
for a large family. There are others
who not only support themselves
working in factories, shops, stores
and offices, but often have an invalid father or mother to support,
therefore do housework beside. These are the women who break down early and are afflicted with various forms of female weakness. Ninety-eight out of every 100 women who have tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have proved that it is a successful remedy for woman's ills. For nearly fifty years it has been restoring women to health, and it will pay every ailing woman to try it.

Wally Reid At Princess

Wallace Reid's latest Paramount
picture, "The Ghost Breaker," which comes to the Princess theatre today
and Thursday is said to be one of the most thrilling screen offerings in which that popular star has been seen in many months. Lila Lee and Walter Hiers are featured with the star.

"The Ghost Breaker" is a melodrama with modern trimmings. There is a wonderful old Spanish castle in Aragon, which is peopled with ghosts
of lovely Spanish girl (Lila Lee) who
is much annoyed by the ghostly visit-
ants; a young and red-blooded hero,
played by Mr. Reid, who bumps into a feud in a visit to Kentucky, just because he happens to be a remote
branch of the Jarvis family; a funny
colored servant, Rusty Snow, which will introduce Walter Hiers as a
black face artist; feud scenes; a thrilling fight in an elevator of a New York Hotel; a chase after a liner;
scenes in midocean aboard the liner
some fine pastoral effects and so on.
All of which supplies color in plenty
as well as thrills galore.

Charley Jones At Mystic

Dynamite and Charles Jones—
that is descriptive of the swift action in the Fox production, "Boss
of Camp Four," at the Mystic today. The finish of the screen offering shows Jones touching off a powder charge that blows up an entire mountain side. The story, dealing with the construction of a road, is
a series of thrilling scenes, one more
startling than the other.

There is adventure and romance,
just enough to give quickened interest to the tale. There is also a piquant tinge of comedy. Playing opposite Jones is a glorious girl.
"Fritzi Brunette's charm adds much
to the virile performance given by
Jones," to quote from latest reports.

Everyone who enjoys a story of the outdoors with its natural scenic beauty, should find much entertainment in the film coming to the Mystic.
Looking back at the successes scored
by Charles Jones, notable among them his work in "The Fast Mail,"
it does not seem amiss to expect the highest standard of screen acting of the type that Jones portrays so interestingly.

In Villages

(By United Press)

Mayence, Jan. 24.—German industrial leaders of the Ruhr were heavily fined by a French court martial here today for disobedience of orders of French military officers.

Herr Spandy was fined 471,700 francs, which at the present rate of exchange amounts to 560,000,000 German marks.

Spandy was one of seven industrial barons of the region occupied by the French who went on trial. The court of justice was packed. Many international journalists were present.

French troops with bayoneted rifles guarded the court room, inside and out.

Fritz Thyssen, one of the accused, who was taken ill on the eve of the trial, stoutly maintained he would obey only the German law.

Paris, Jan. 24.—The French are planning to occupy the Ruhr for at least two years, it was learned on reliable authority today.

General Weygand probably will be appointed high commissioner for the newly occupied territory, which may be completely cut off from the rest of Germany.

Militarization of railroads and communications is expected to be the next step, with even more drastic measures to follow if German resistance continues.

Essen Jan. 24.—French troops in the Ruhr were withdrawn from the larger cities and quartered in nearby villages. Patrols and staff headquarters remained in Essen, Bochum, Dortmund and other industrial centers, but the bulk of the army of occupation was scattered among Ruhr farms.

ANNUAL MEETING GIVEN TO LEBANON

Executive Committee Of Log Rolling
Association Of Woodman Lodge
Selects Convention City

RUSHVILLE HAD AN AMBITION

The annual meeting of the District Log Rolling association of the Modern Woodman Lodge was lost to Rushville according to word received here this morning, which was to the effect that the executive committee in charge of selecting the 1923 convention city had awarded the meeting to Lebanon.

The news came just when active preparations were being made to bring the convention to Rushville July 3 and 4. The Modern Woodman lodge appointed a special committee Monday evening to enlist the support of the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs and kindred organizations in an effort to raise a guarantee fund for the log rolling.

All of their efforts were of no avail, however, because a delegation of citizens from Lebanon waited on the log rolling association's executive committee Tuesday and persuaded the committee to designate Lebanon though there was a strong demand to bring the convention here, due to the fact that this is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the organization in Rushville.

The subject was taken up by the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs over a month ago and soon afterwards the word was sent out that there was no chance to get the meeting. Later, however, it developed that the convention city had not been named.

FOR MEMORIAL DAY BILL

Support Asked by State Commander
of Legion in Message

An appeal for support of the Memorial Day bill in the state legislature, which would prevent commercialized sports on Decoration Day, was received today by Osro Farthing, adjutant of Rush post of the American Legion here, from Perry Faulkner, department commander for Indiana.

The telegram said that strong opposition to the bill had developed and the Indiana leader urged the local adjutant and members of the post to ask prominent men in the community to wire local representatives, seeking support of the bill.

TERM OF COURT ENDS SATURDAY

No More Jury Trials Scheduled For
Hearing Until First of Next
Term, February 7

TWO COMPLAINTS ARE FILED

Frank A. Messmore is Plaintiff in
Suit for a Divorce From Mabel
M. Messmore

The November term of court will come to a close Saturday, and only a few minor matters are set for trial during the remainder of this term. In all probability the jury will not be used any more, unless it is called for a case Friday.

Next week will be vacation, between the November and February terms. The February term will begin Monday, February 5, and the jury will be used in the first week on the seventh, as the case of the State against Mary Ellen Hughes is set for trial on that date. Judge Craig of Greensburg is the special judge in that case, and it is expected that a special venire will be called.

Two law suits and several claims against estates were placed on file today. One of the suits was a complaint for divorces and the other a complaint on a note.

Frank A. Messmore is plaintiff in the suit for divorce from Mabel M. Messmore, the charge being that the defendant was dirty, filthy and unsanitary in her appearance and house work. The plaintiff also charges that she failed to prepare his breakfast, and that during their married life, she did not prepare this meal for him more than a dozen times.

The plaintiff alleges that they were married in October 1921, and separated December 30, 1922, and no children were born to them. They resided in Walker township, according to the record.

RESIGNATION IS ACCEPTED

Described as Progressive, a Good
Organizer and Useful in Move-

The Rev. Gibson Wilson, who has accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian church here and will assume his pastoral duties here the first Sunday in February, the 4th, has been the pastor of the Presbyterian church of Bremen, O., for the past eight years, according to the Bremen Derrick, a newspaper published there.

REV. GIBSON WILSON

The Rev. Mr. Wilson announced to his congregation on January 14 that he had received a call to Rushville and asked the congregation to accept his resignation, which was done.

Concerning the record he has made in Bremen, the newspaper says:

The announcement has caused profound sorrow, not only among the members of his congregation, but with all people. As the members of the congregation Sunday morning came to realize that they would soon lose their beloved pastor, tears could not be restrained. Rev. Wilson began his pastorate in Bremen in February, 1915, and the eight years that he has been here have been fruitful ones. The church has taken on greater activity and he is leaving

Europe's Affliction is Royalty, Whose

Richard Edwards

DEMOCRACY OF AMERICA

Evangelist's Contrast of Sham Nobility and Aristocracy Is Vivid
—One Conversion

Despite the inclement weather of Tuesday night, the service at the Main Street Christian Church had an audience of goodly size.

Evangelist E. Richard Edwards held the close attention of his audience with his sermon on "The Real Royal Household". If any person present had any doubt as to who are the real nobility of earth, that doubt was dispelled.

The discourse was inspiring, scriptural and paid a fine tribute to the democracy of America and the opportunity for all to attain to that distinction for which his or her talents are fitted. Numerous instances were given of the men and women of humble rank who rose to places of rank based on real worth.

Especially interesting was the contrast of the speaker that the trouble with Europe was "Royalty." He said that the reigning houses of Europe insisted on marrying at the top and were dying at the top. His contrast of sham nobility and aristocracy was vivid. He said that if you are not employed at any useful labor or a tradesman, they would call you a "gentleman" in English circles, but that our shorter name here in the United States was "Hobo."

The sermon had some keen points of humor that appealed to the audience. The outstanding thought was that character was the basis of real royalty—as we build that on the faith and teaching of Christ, we take the highest rank among our fellows.

It was claimed that all things belong to the sons and daughters of the Almighty and the people out of the Kingdom of God are only visitors among the glories of this earth and all that pertains to it finally reverts to God's children.

There was one who came forward at the close of the sermon. The solo was presented by Harry Doty and greatly pleased the congregation.

The subject announced for tonight is "The Blind Man's Creed." It promises to have a large hearing. The chorus choir will continue to offer a spirited song service and B. F. Miller will sing a special solo.

VIRTUAL DEFEAT OF BILL IS SEEN

Committee on Elections

MANY NEW BILLS INTRODUCED

House Kills Fifteen Bills, Among
Them Proposals to Abolish Two
State Offices

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 24.—Virtual defeat of the bill to repeal the absent voters law in the senate and indefinite postponement of fifteen measures in the house marked the morning session of the state legislature today.

The Baker bill to repeal the absent voters law was recommended to the committee on elections when it was brought up for final consideration. This action meant defeat of the measure in its present form, but the elections committee may amend it to prevent abuse of the law in line with the recommendations of Governor McCray.

The state board of accounts would be abolished and its duties vested in the state auditor under the terms of a bill introduced by Senator Hays. The auditor would become head of the department and be given power to appoint a superintendent at a salary of $6,000 a year.

Motor busses and trucks operating under a regular schedule are declared a public utility and placed under the control of the public service commission in a bill introduced by Senator Moorhead of Indianapolis.

A bill introduced by Senator Batt provides that county councils shall fix all tax levies and rates within

FRENCH TO TAKE IT OVER

Public Square In German Town
Crowded With French And Ger-

(Copyright, 1923, by United Press)
Coblentz, German, Jan. 24.—"O say Can You See"

The opening strains of the national anthem from the smartest of French military bands blared out through the packed square at Coblentz promptly at noon.

The Stars and Stripes on the tall flag pole fluttered an instant as two American machine gunners, honored men who had come through Chateau Thierry, pulled gently on the ropes.

A French and American military guard was rigid at attention as the flag came down. Crowds of Germans and French, many with wet eyes, pushed forward to witness the ceremony.

The huge flag sank slowly to the foot of the pole, where General Allen, commanding the last remnant of the American army of occupation, caught it in his arms and folded it.

The anthem came to an end with a crash of cymbals and a great blare of brass.

Our flag was no longer there. The ceremony signified the formal departure of the last of Americans "two millions" from the Rhine.

One thousand American doughboys made up the last detachment that entered from Coblentz this afternoon. The city took a holiday to pay them honor and see them off. A little group of sixty remained behind to clean up.

Two car loads of the train that drew the last Americans to Belgium for embarkation for the United States were made up of newly wedded doughboys and their German wives. Many of them had been married in the Rhineland; there were tearful partings between brides and their relatives as the train pulled out.

A telegram was received from General Degoutte, commanding the French army of occupation in the Ruhr.

"Most cordial salutations to our American comrades. Best wishes for a happy future. We will keep faithfully the souvenir of loyal co-operation."

The last act of the American army of occupation at Coblentz was to re-

COUNTY ASSESSORS MEET HERE FEB. 20

Officials of Sixth District and Two
Other Counties Will Confer on
Spring Assessment

MAY FIX A UNIFORM SCALE

A district conference of county assessors will be held here on Tuesday, February 20, it was announced today by Earl F. Priest, county assessor.

The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss plans for the spring assessment of personal property which will begin on March 1. Such conferences have been held in past years and have been addressed by representatives of the state board of tax commissioners, who outline the state commission's ideas in regard to the application of the state tax law. There is a possibility, too, that some changes may be made in the tax law which would necessitate some explanation. The assessors will try to arrive at some uniform scale for placing values on farm personal property, inasmuch as values on this class of property are practically the same in this district.

Assessors of counties in the sixth congressional district will attend the conference, and in addition those from Johnson and Decatur counties will also be invited. Counties in the sixth district that will be represented are Franklin, Union, Fayette, Wayne, Henry, Hancock, Rush and Shelby.

Says County Unit Law Would Promote Efficiency In The Rush County Schools

By W. E. WAGONER

(Former County Superintendent of Schools)

I read with much interest the letter written by Ex-County Superintendent George concerning the county unit bill. I agree with him that the bill is little understood and I feel that we owe it to the future citizenship of Rush county to give thoughtful consideration to any plan seriously proposed to improve our school situation, before we form an opinion for or against, pass resolutions for or against, or use our influence for or against it.

A few years back when the change from the township to the county system was first under consideration I was dubious as to whether or not in actual practice Rush county would be benefited by the change. After a first hand study of the school situation in this county, after a careful study of the report of the Indiana School Survey Commission, and an examination paragraph by paragraph of the county unit bill before the legislature, I am convinced that the county unit plan will permit an efficiency and a progress in Rush county schools that is impossible under present conditions.

The question raised as to the membership of the county board of education, the method of its selection, its control of the location and construction of school buildings, its responsiveness to local sentiment, and the fallacy of allowing township lines to separate communities from their schools, have been so effectively and accurately discussed by Mr. George that I shall not touch on them. Also it would be impossible within the limits of this letter to give an extended discussion of the county unit plan. I would, however, like to touch briefly on certain pertinent points which have been raised by interested citizens.

1. Contrary to popular belief, the bill gives the State Board of Education no power over either the location or the construction of school buildings, except so far as it is willing to advise with local boards when such advice is asked for.

2. Those who have an idea that the county unit will mean the consolidation of all the schools of the county at the county seat should note that all cities of more than 5000 population are separate units, and therefore have no voice in the election of the members of the county board and can have no member residing within their limits. This surely guarantees against the possi-

HILL INTRODUCES TWO SENATE BILLS

Carthage Man Sponsors Measures To Protect Non-Union Workers And
Provide Vehicle Lights

BOTH ARE IMPORTANT BILLS

Senator R. H. Hill of Carthage, representing Rush, Fayette and Shelby counties in the state legislature, has introduced two bills which are regarded as important ones.

One bill will make it a misdemeanor to interfere with a worker, or influence him to quit a position, and the other is to provide lights on all vehicles using public highways at nights.

The first bill is designed to protect workmen who take the place of men on a strike, and to place a penalty on anyone who interferes with the laboring man having the right to take someone else's job. The bill aims directly, it is believed, at railroads and miners, which will offer non-union men protection from striking employees.

The other bill, if enacted into a law, will place all vehicles under practically the same law as automobiles, requiring lights to be displayed thirty minutes after sun-down and thirty minutes before sun-up. This bill provides that even carts, wagons and all conveyances on a public highway or street, shall be equipped with proper lights.

Five years of suffering from stomach trouble, nervousness and a general run-down condition was ended when he got Tanlac, declares Edw. J. Whalen, of Washington, D. C. Mr. Whalen also gained fifteen pounds in weight.

"Tanlac put me on my feet, with a gain of fifteen pounds," declared Edward J. Whalen, 607 6th St., N. W., Washington, D. C., valued employee of the U. S. General Accounting Office.

"For five years, I suffered terribly from stomach trouble and was dreadfully nervous and run-down. I lost my appetite, fell off several pounds, and what I did eat made me suffer from awful gas pains, palpitation and choking sensations. I suffered even worse at night and couldn't get to sleep until near morning."

"But Tanlac has wiped the slate clean and now I am eating anything I want and am stronger and healthier than in many a day. If anybody wants to know the real value of Tanlac, send them to me." Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.

Says County Unit Law Would Promote Efficiency in Rush Co. Schools

 ability of "county seat consolidation and domination."
 3. The county unit does not mean centralization of school, except so far as schools are adjusted to natural community centers. It will mean school centers larger than the township in some places, school centers smaller than the township in others. This matter will be entirely in the hands of the County Board of Education, locally elected, and directly amenable to the people of the county. Such men will not be likely to bring about consolidation excepting so far as public opinion and proven school efficiency will justify.

4. Instead of the county unit destroying local control it will strengthen it. The people of the county will elect the members of the county board of education. They, because of the high qualifications set up, will elect the highest type of schoolmen to take charge of the school system of the county. With a stronger local leadership created within the county, so-called "dictation" from the state capital will be almost impossible. Indiana has a good example of this at the present time. A large number of city school systems with their stronger local leadership do not need, and therefore do not get the amount of state supervision that the major portion of the township schools receive. In fact, it is always true that strong local leadership in any matter, lessens the amount of outside control that is possible.

5. The county unit will lower school costs. Every school man who has made careful financial comparisons is convinced, quality for quality of school work considered, that the proposed reorganization will result in a saving of from 5 to 20% in financial outlay.

6. Why do school men consider the county unit so essential for future school growth?

This question can best be answered in this fashion. Seventy-five years ago the territory that composed a school district was as large as the territory from which people could gather conveniently for an evening of entertainment or neighborhood sociability. Our forefathers, not foreseeing automobiles and hard surfaced roads, but foreseeing better means of transportation and better pikes, long before the local community was as large as the township, made the township the unit of school administration. As a result, when the economic community became as large as the township, the schools were legally so situated that they were able to adjust themselves quickly to the enlarged local community unit. As a result, Indiana with the township system outstripped the schools of the states that retained the district system, and Indiana became one of the foremost states of the Union, educationally.

In many places in Indiana today, good roads and automobile transportation have made the six by six township smaller than the local economic unit, and each year will see this list of larger economic units added to. If Indiana is to maintain her position as a pace-maker in education, our laws must be so changed that artificial township lines will not prevent our school communities from enlarging as the corresponding social and business communities enlarge, that is, the county unit is not an attempt to centralize or revolutionize the schools of Indiana in a day. It is an attempt to make it possible for our schools by the slow process of evolution to adjust themselves as it is necessary to the larger social and economic units which are developing everywhere.

behind a record of which he can well be proud. But his usefulness to this community was not through his church alone as he was active in movements outside of the church whereby the community profited. He is progressive, a good organizer, strong in the pulpit and well liked.

During his pastorate here he officiated at 25 weddings and conducted 104 funerals. He has baptized 111 children and 65 adults, and has received 231 members into the church, 154 of whom were received on confession of faith. When he came to Bremen the membership was reported 253. There has been losses, but the gain was steady and the present membership is 324. Except when his church was closed because of the flu, or he was away on his vacation, he has only been out of his pulpit three Sundays during the eight years, two of these Sundays being spent in the Rushville church. His ministries have been to a larger circle than the boundaries of his own congregation.

Rev. Wilson was chairman of the committee that made the survey of churches and communities of Fairfield county for the Ohio Federation of Churches. He was a member of the Fairfield County War Chest Committee, a committee composed of 50 of the prominent men of the county and during the World War was active in every way whereby he might be of service to his country. He has been an active member of the Fairfield County Ministerial Association, a member of the Bremen Automobile Club which he has represented at the state meeting, a member of different fraternal orders which he has addressed on many occasions; a member of the Rushville Grange, a member of the Bremen Lyceum committee, in fact active in all public welfare interests. For four years he has been the stated clerk of Columbus Presbytery, a position of considerable responsibility.

In a community where there is not the largest opportunities for growth, he has seen the interests of his church steadily advance, not only in membership but in many other ways. Benevolent gifts have increased from $400 per year to over $2000 per year. The men's work of the church including the boys, is well cared for through the Brotherhood and Sabbath School. There is a large missionary society with three auxiliary organizations and among the young there are both a Senior and Junior Christian Endeavor Society, well attended and active. The Sunday School is alive to its work with many of the classes organized.

Rev. Wilson is a graduate of Washburn College and Princeton Seminary. His family consists of himself, wife and three children, Kathryn who is a senior in the high school; Carolyn, who is a sophomore, and Edward who is in the fourth grade.

Rushville is a beautiful and flourishing county seat of 6000 people, located forty miles southeast of Indianapolis with four railroads and an interurban. The Presbyterian church there has a membership of about 400. Rushville has the additional interest to Rev. Wilson in its educational advantage. His daughters desire to enter Western College at Oxford upon completion of their school work, and this location puts them within easy access to the college.

While Bremen people greatly regret to lose Rev. Wilson and his estimable family, yet they are pleased to know that in their new home there will be greater opportunities and increased responsibilities and through training, experience and natural ability the Reverend is well equipped to meet them.

The crack band of the Third Army's Rhine force smashed into a stirring Marsellais.

Two blue-clad Polis marched to the flagpole with a huge French tricolor.

Slowly, just as the American flag had come down, they raised it to the top. Exchange of military salutes. Final farewells at Ehrenbreitstein. The Americans fell in and marched to their train which was to pull out at four o'clock.

GERMAN LEADERS ARE HEAVILY FINED

Establishment of a military cordon around the frontiers was not made known.

Germans today charged the French with deliberately spreading untrue reports of "troop movements in Germany." The French stated they had information of such; German officials and the war office officially declared the reports unqualifiedly false.

Headquarters of the Thyssen plant at Hamborn announced that workers at the Thyssen industries will resume their labors pending outcome of the Mayence trial. Many workers at Hugo Stinnes' plants may return under the same conditions.

The French are not anxious to precipitate a crisis in the Ruhr and punishment of the coal operators, it is feared, would be certain to bring on trouble.

Miners in the Ruhr were given extra bonuses today because of unprecedented jump in prices.

Steaming up Heavyweight Fight

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Jan. 24—Jess Willard's belated howl that Jack Dempsey put something over on him at Toledo in 1919 failed to create any excitement. It was accepted casually and considered rather to be expected since it has become a custom for defeated heavyweight champions to cry that they did not lose on the level.

Willard did not go into details about the stunts pulled to relieve him of his title, but it is thought that he has in mind the old story that Dempsey had his fists packed in cement when he went into the ring.

Jimmy De Forest, who trained Dempsey for the fight, and who handled him in the ring in Toledo, was once quoted as saying that Dempsey had on "Kid McCoy's bandages," but De Forest later denied the story, and said that he put nothing but the regulation tape on his hands.

Willard, however, and a good many other fans have never been able to figure why the champion fairly mashed in Willard's face on that particular occasion when he hardly left marks on his numerous other victims.

Dempsey can come back perhaps with some good argument in the claim that he never had to hit any one like he hit Willard to put him out.

For the next three months anything that Willard says must be taken as pure "seam."

As far as that goes everything

that anyone connected with heavy-weight boxing has to say before the middle of next summer might be discounted as ballyhoo for Dempsey's next fight.

Scraps for the heavyweight championship have become such tremendous business propositions that it takes almost a year to get over with one. It requires miles of columns and tons of words.

The miles of words and the tons of conversation will be dished out from now until next July.

There may have been one heavyweight champion in the past who was willing to admit that he was beaten by a better man, but his name isn't just on the end of the tongue.

Jim Jeffries said he "got his" in a cup of tea and Jack Johnson at one time said he took a deliberate flop in losing to Willard.

Johnson afterwards denied that he had been fixed to do the diving act, but a lot of wise boxing bugs have always believed, and they do yet that Johnson was not out when he took the count, because he covered his eyes with his gloves to shield them from the sun as the referee was counting over him.

It sounds reasonable that Jack was all in, tired and worn, flat he knew he could not win and decided to lose when he had a good chance.

Tales of sharp practice always follow big boxing contests nowadays. It is no new story that Johnson was "arranged" to let Jeffries beat him, and that Jack forgot all about the agreement when he saw he could win the title and its fortune.

Exactly the same thing came out after the recent Carpenter-Siki fight the claim being made that Siki was to have taken a dive for the films and that he forgot the lines of scenario when the Frenchman hurt him with a push on the chin.

ARLINGTON TO MEET CONNSVILLE FIVE

Athletic Club Scheduled To Play An-
stead Engineering Team At Ar-
lington Thursday Night

TOURNEY FEBRUARY 16-17

The Arlington Athletic Club will meet the Connersville Anstead Engineering team Thursday night at the Arlington gymnasium. The Connersville team has in its line up such players as Lipps, Cates, Sparks, Redding and Clevenger, the latter two being former University of Milwaukee players, and come highly recommended.

Connersville has victories over such teams as Hagerstown, Richmond, Muncie Durants and others and have sent word that the fans will not be disappointed as they fully expect to win.

However, the A. C.'s are in good condition and have been going good lately. The curtain raiser will be played by the Webb Independent team and the Junior A. C.'s. These two teams went to a five minute overtime game recently, the Juniors winning by a two point margin.

The Independent tourney for this district will be held at Arlington February 16 and 17 and indications are that ten or twelve teams will enter.

Hittin' 'Em and Missin' 'Em

SAY GANG, LOOK WHAT THEY

Shelbyville has it figured out. The newspaper down there says that they will win the game here Friday night, in an easy fashion, adding that Rushville is a mediocre team. Hittin' 'em looked that word up, and Webster says it means "of a middle quality; of but a moderate or low degree of excellence."

GETTING READY FOR NEXT YEAR NOW

One of our contributors from the high school, informs us that the high school schedule for next year has about been completed. He adds, "It is much lighter than this year's schedule with more local teams on the list. The following have been signed up to date: Greensburg, Moscow, Greenfield, Hagerstown, Columbus, Milroy, Fairview and Carthage."

WHAT DO YOU SAY, FANS, TO THIS

While Hittin' 'em doesn't like to but in, but the better the schedule, the better the games. We would like to hear what some of the fans think of the schedule. The trouble with the whole thing last year, was the schedule—a good team, and a weak schedule. It looks nice to have teams that you can beat, but it is a great deal better to have a schedule like this year and meet teams which give you a tussle, even if you do get beat once in a while. We'd be in favor of booking all of the good ones and make our team measure up to the rest of 'em.

LINE-UPS ARE CHANGED

Reade and Comella have been taken off of the second-string team, and will be given regular suits. Some one suggested to Hittin' 'em that Dailey would make a good piece of lumber for the back guard position. Ollie Cartmel says he is gonna quit. No, Ollie we wouldn't do that—we'd stick with the ship.

WE MIGHT GO IN OVER OUR HEADS

Rushville is wading into the Big Ten right now with Elwood on the list Saturday night. All of the teams that have been played lately and most of the ones that are left, are mentioned on the Big Ten list, or Honor Roll. Maybe there is a reason for so many defeats after all.

Which only proves again what Hittin' 'em says. It is better to have that kind of a record, than 23 straight victories over some of those so called "mediocre" teams.

KEEP MAILIN' 'EM TO HITTIN' 'EM

If Moscow keeps on breaking up their opponents winning streaks, they will have a winning streak of their own that will have to be broken up.

WE'RE GLAD THAT ELWOOD PLAYS CONNSVILLE FRIDAY NIGHT AND NOT US—IT WILL BE US ON SATURDAY NIGHT.

Anderson has just gotta win Friday night. If they can't beat Vincennes, who can?

WHY NOT SHINE LIKE A BRIGHT STAR?

Hittin' 'em has been asked by the Indianapolis Star to telephone complete details of the basketball games that Rushville plays. They want the score right at the end of the first half, and also the final score, with a complete line-up and summary. They seem to think a great deal of this team by wanting details and telephone calls at the end of the first half. Why not make the report Friday night read a victory for Rushville? Not only that but they also want your picture. Have you got one?

WINS ON 6-POINT MARGIN

Carthage High School Defeats Raleigh At Carthage Tuesday Night

Raleigh high school basketball team met defeat Tuesday night at Carthage, when the high school team of that place ran up a six point victory 36 to 30, in a fast and exciting contest. The score at the first half saw Carthage leading 15 to 11, and all of the way through the game Raleigh was trailing only a few points. The Raleigh team was handicapped on account of one or two of their regulars being out. When the country tourney is held in Rushville on February 3, they are anxious to meet Carthage on equal terms as they feel that they could defeat them. Raleigh and Moscow, two close rivals in the county, will meet Friday night at Raleigh.

the county. Fifteen bills were killed by the house concurring in committee reports, the more important being:

Providing that the father must pay the medical fees at birth and support children born out of wedlock.

Abolishing the state board of engineers.

Abolishing the office of state fire marshal.

Increasing the license fees on motor busses and trucks and returning the fees to the county in which they were paid.

Providing that public officials' accounts be inspected by the state board of accounts on expiration of their terms on the petition of twenty-five or more taxpayers.

Making it impossible for judges to suspend the sentences of intoxicated automobile drivers.

Providing for a vacation in road building until counties pay off their present road indebtedness.

Providing that the property of all lodges and fraternities shall be taxable.

An impending battle for dollars obscured other issues in the legislature today as members took up three distinct sets of recommendation for appropriating money to operate the state government.

Governor McCray requested $13,934,731.27 to maintain governmental departments and institutions, in addition to $2,000,000 to complete the new reformatory at Pendleton.

Chairman Jesse Eschbach and the republican members of the budget committee recommended $13,734,031.27 and were silent on the reformatory project.

The democratic minority of the budget committee recommended even further reduction and suggested an appropriation of $750,000 for completing the reformatory.

With the budget committee divided within itself and the two units at variance with Governor McCray, it was quite apparent that the fifty senators and one hundred representatives would have at least fifty different opinions concerning how much should be made available.

The majority report of the budget committee submitted to the house late yesterday by the Governor, accompanied by his own recommendations, represents a reduction of many millions from the requests of department and institutional heads. They had asked a total of about $20,000,000 as revealed by the United Press some time ago.

For the fiscal year October 1, 1923-1924, the committee recommended $7,142,578.27, and for the succeeding fiscal year $6,591,453.

The bill as presented does not include the governor's reformatory request nor the appropriations for the highway commission which are expected to range any place from $4,500,000 to $9,000,000. The reformatory proposal will be taken care of in another bill and the highway appropriation will await disposal of the proposed gasoline tax.

In nearly every case the budget committee majority report reduced requests of the various departments and institutions.

It is possible to reveal now the way in which members of the budget committee argued over each separate item. Chairman Eschbach consistently refused to sign a recommendation for $2,000,000 for the reformatory and thus prevented inclusion of it in the bill.

Other items were similarly contested by Eschbach and by the other members of the committee and it was these fights that delayed presentation of the report to the governor until a few days ago. It should have been completed January 1.

That Winter COLD

You have got so used to that hacking cough which bothers you every night during the winter that you have almost come to look upon it as a necessary evil. It is nothing of the kind.

The chances are that the cough is caused by nerve pressure, caused in its turn by some small spinal bones being out of place.

The Vital Force is thus prevented from flowing normally to the respiratory organs and they cannot function normally. Let your Chiropractor put these bones back in place. The pressure will be relieved and the Vital force will flow normally, causing the organs to function normally. The effect, in other words, the cough, will disappear.

If I Could Make Aprons—
EVER stop to think that practically every woman, regardless of her station in life, will wear an apron some time or other? Think of the demand for good aprons.
Why not make aprons to measure? Aprons from selected material? Aprons of new design?
Wouldn't they sell, though!
It simply would be a matter of telling the women of Rushville that these different aprons were being made at right prices. This could be done best with Daily Republican want ads.

meeting. The next meeting of the society will be held February 13, the day before Valentine Day, and an unusual program is being arranged for this meeting.

The Glenwood Sorosis was entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Walther in Glenwood. The responses to the roll call were "News of the World". Mrs. E. W. Caldwell gave a very interesting talk on the "Industrial and Social conditions of the United States" and Mrs. T. E. Murphy followed her talk with a paper on "Juvenile Delinquency and Juvenile Courts." Mrs. Murphy prepared her paper after a thorough investigation of the Junnersville. Most of the members of the club were present for this meeting and one guest was present, Mrs. Charles Frank of Connersville. The hostess served a delectable luncheon, a beautiful bouquet of sweet peas and English violets centering the dining table. Miss Sadia Schell was appointed secretary to fill the vacancy at the resignation of Mrs. Nelle Murphy. The February meeting of the club will be held February 13 at the home of Mrs. Emma Powell in this city.

Relatives and friends numbering fifty-seven, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Weaver Monday night, and enjoyed a pitch-in supper given in honor of Earl and Sadie Bush, nephew and niece of Mrs. Weaver, who left for their home in White county Tuesday. A splendid supper was enjoyed and the remainder of the evening was spent in games and contests. Honors were won by Mrs. Earl Priest and Mrs. Charles Hasty.

Those present to enjoy the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Priest and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Plesinger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rush Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Sampson, Mrs. Hattie Aldridge and daughter Alice, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hasty and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Plummer, Mr. and Mrs. Manford Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Morgan and daughter Freda, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Whittinger and daughter Helen, Ben Goddard and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl McCaulley, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Allison, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Darnell, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cameron and grandson Gladstone, Mr. and Mrs. Dolph Cameron and family, Fred Freeman and Frank Elliott.

The purpose of the meeting is for teachers and others to discuss various problems of geography that develop in work of instruction and administration of the subject, in an effort to improve the quality of geography teaching.

The two days session will be addressed by many prominent authorities on the subject, including L. N. Hines of Muncie, H. B. Roberts of Newcastle, Fred J. Breeze of Muncie, E. E. Ramsey, state school inspector of Indianapolis, and several college professors.

GREAT BRITAIN WILL APPEAL TO THE LEAGUE

Will Ask Intervention in Allies Dispute With Turkey to Prevent War in the Near East

WORLD PEACE THREATENED

By HENRY WOOD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Lausanne, Jan. 24—Great Britain will appeal to the League of nations to intervene in the allies' dispute with Turkey and prevent war in the Near East.

Lord Curzon, after the Lausanne conference had reached a crisis and Ismet Pasha, Turk spokesman, had again refused concessions demanded by the allies, announced the situation threatened world peace and that Britain would lose no time in taking it before the league.

American Ambassador Child, United States Observer, presented to the conference a note, asking that the "open door" principle be applied to oil concessions, under dispute.

Such concessions, he said, should not be monopolized by any single country.

British and Turkey, each striving for possession of the Mosul oil fields, brought the parley to its present deadlock.

Trial On Charge Of Using Mails
For To Defraud People

$60,000,000 SWINDLE CHARGED

Firm Sold "Fruit Lands" To Thrifty
Farmers, And Lands Were Lo-
cated In Lower Rio Grande

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 24.—The
West's greatest land swindle was scheduled to come to trial here today.

After more than three years of
delay W. E. Stewart and his associates were scheduled to appear to answer charges of swindling thousands
of victims throughout the country of $60,000,000. This huge amount was obtained through the sale of "fruit
lands" in the lower Rio Grande
valley.

Irrigation promise was the big
feature of the lands and indictments
were returned against Stewart on
the grounds that the mails were used promised fald to mae

to defraud. It is alleged the irrigation promised, failed to materialize
for thousands of acres of land sold.

Competing with the historic "Mississippi Bubble" which involved world
powers more than two centuries ago,
in actual money involved, the Stewart
case is classed by postoffice inspectors as "one of the biggest cases
ever prosecuted in the United States."

Stewart's clients were drawn from
the fertile and profitable farms of Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin.

They were taken to Texas where,
after seeing a few show farms along
operating irrigation ditches, they invested. They paid $300 to $500 an acre for arid Texas land which might be irrigated. Hundreds of witnesses will be called by the postoffice department. A large number of them are penniless,

still on their farms in Texas. The
government will have to pay the
transportation costs for these, estimates of the cost already having
been obtained from the railroads.

The Stewart case has been a source of concern to politicians
since the original investigation in 1919 by J. M. Donaldson, postoffice
inspector. Prominent politicians in Missouri, Texas and Washington have
been appealed to and enlisted in the fight.

The case has had the attention of Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general; Senator Watson of Indiana,
Senator Reed of Missouri. R. B.
Crenger of Texas, a close personal friend of President Harding and a number of other political powers.

Every step in the investigation and
prosecution for three years has drawn political fire. Inspector Donaldson was called to Washington for
questioning early in his investigations, but he was allowed to proceed. Shortly after he presented the entire case to the federal court.

Are Women Over- worked

Yes, hundreds of thousands of them are. This applies to the house-
wife and mother who struggles on a
small income to make both ends
meet by doing all the washing, iron-
ing, cooking, making and mending
for a large family. There are others
who not only support themselves
working in factories, shops, stores
and offices, but often have an in-
valid father or mother to support,
therefore do housework beside. These are the women who break down early and are afflicted with various forms of female weakness. Ninety-
eight out of every 100 women who
have tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have proved that it
is a successful remedy for woman's ills. For nearly fifty years it has been restoring women to health, and
it will pay every ailing woman to try it.

AMUSEMENTS

Wally Reid At Princess

Wallace Reid's latest Paramount
picture, "The Ghost Breaker," which
comes to the Princess theatre today
and Thursday is said to be one of
the most thrilling screen offerings in
which that popular star has been seen in many months. Lila Lee and Walter Hiers are featured with the
star.

"The Ghost Breaker" is a melodrama with modern trimmings. There
is a wonderful old Spanish castle in Aragon, which is peopled with ghosts
of lovely Spanish girl (Lila Lee) who
is much annoyed by the ghostly visit-
ants; a young and red-blooded hero,
played by Mr. Reid, who bumps into
a feud in a visit to Kentucky, just because he happens to be a remote
branch of the Jarvis family; a funny
colored servant, Rusty Snow, which will introduce Walter Hiers as a
black face artist; feud scenes; a
thrilling fight in an elevator of a New York Hotel; a chase after a liner;
scenes in midocean aboard the liner
some fine pastoral effects and so on.
All of which supplies color in plenty
as well as thrills galore.

Charley Jones At Mystic

Dynamite and Charles Jones—
that is descriptive of the swift action in the Fox production, "Boss
of Camp Four," at the Mystic today. The finish of the screen offering shows Jones touching off a powder charge that blows up an entire mountain side. The story, dealing with the construction of a road, is
a series of thrilling scenes, one more
startling than the other.

There is adventure and romance,
just enough to give quickened interest to the tale. There is also a piquant tinge of comedy. Playing opposite Jones is a glorious girl,
Fritzi Brunette's charm adds much
to the virile performance given by
Jones," to quote from latest reports.

Everyone who enjoys a story of
the outdoors with its natural scenic
beauty, should find much entertainment in the film coming to the Mystic.
Looking back at the successes scored
by Charles Jones, notable among
them his work in "The Fast Mail,"
it does not seem amiss to expect the
highest standard of screen acting of
the type that Jones portrays so interestingly.
